MAYOR CHRISTMAS MESSAGE

As we gather to celebrate the Christmas season, I want to extend my warmest greetings to all the families, friends, and neighbours who make our community such a special place to call home. I'm so proud to be part of this community.

This year has been another one of growth and resilience. We've seen new projects take shape, from a new restaurant in town, a thriving thrift store, a tree planting project to replace trees in town, a high school rodeo, and a bigger than ever car show to mention just a few. Our office staff and public works continue to work hard to make our town attractive and one you want to come visit.

As we enjoy the lights, music, and traditions of the season, it's also important to remember the true meaning of Christmas. At its heart, Christmas celebrates the birth of Jesus Christ, our Saviour, whose coming brought hope, redemption, and a message of love to the world. Each time we extend a helping hand, speak a kind word, or serve those in need, we not only make our community better but we bear witness to the deeper purpose of Jesus' birth. My wish for us all is that this Christmas brings comfort, joy, and moments of rest with the people who matter most in our lives. May the true spirit of Christmas be evident in our daily lives throughout the year as we continue to build our community and make it the best it can be.

Merry Christmas, and may God bless you and your families in the year ahead.

His Worship Kelvin Schapansky

BUILDING CONNECTIONS: HOW FIG FUNDING IS STRENGTHENING STRASBOURG

When the Facilitating Independent Grants (FIG) program first launched in Strassbourg, the vision was clear: help older adults stay active, connected, and confident in their ability to live independently. Thanks to FIG support, that goal is being achieved every day through the work of the Strassbourg Age Friendly Recreation Board—and the results are remarkable.

The range of programs now available is impressive. The Taxi Program makes transportation affordable and reliable, ensuring seniors can reach medical appointments, shopping, and community events with ease. Wellness Clinics provide foot care, routine health monitoring, and information sessions that help seniors stay active, safe, and informed. Additional supports—such as snow shoveling, handyman services, Meals on Wheels, and window cleaning—allow older adults to remain comfortably in their own homes and maintain independence.

What makes the FIG grant especially impactful is how seamlessly it aligns with broader community initiatives, including Age Friendly and Social Prescribing efforts in the region. Together, these programs create a coordinated network that supports physical, emotional, and social well-being. FIG-funded programming strengthens Age Friendly goals by reducing isolation, improving accessibility, and ensuring seniors have opportunities to connect, participate, and thrive.

As one participant, Margaret, shared: “I used to stay home most days because I didn’t know where to go or who to ask for help. Now I have people checking in, classes I look forward to, and a reason to get out. It’s changed my whole routine.”

Volunteer Strength and Community Impact

At the heart of it all are the volunteers—about 20 strong—who make the programs run. Many are seniors themselves, giving back to the community while benefiting from the services. “They’re living proof of how valuable these programs are,” says Ashley Scholefield, Senior Communications Coordinator. “Their passion and generosity are what keep everything going.”

The results speak for themselves. More than 300 older adults have already benefited, with 100–150 participating each month. Feedback has been overwhelmingly positive: seniors say they feel healthier, less isolated, and more confident about remaining in their own homes.

Of course, challenges remain. With growing demand, the Board is always seeking additional volunteers and working to secure sustainable funding. But the vision is clear: to keep seniors not only safe, but thriving—body, mind, and spirit.

A Community Where Aging Is Celebrated

In Strassbourg, aging isn’t seen as an obstacle—it’s embraced as another season of life worth celebrating. Thanks to the Age Friendly program, strengthened by FIG funding, seniors here don’t just get by; they flourish, surrounded by care, community, and connection.
